(2021)

PERFORMANCE NOTES

- The mmm sound is a resonant humming sound, perhaps with a slightly open mouth if necessary, to create a fuller sound
- The cello should move to a different performance space for each movement it plays in (more info below)
- All breath marks have been left to the discretion of the conductor

In Celebration of the Life and Works of Hamish Henderson (1919-2002)

This work was made possible with financial assistance from the University of Aberdeen, Principal's Excellence Fund 2017

With many thanks to Christine Sands

Coronach was first performed by The University of Aberdeen Chamber Choir, with Emily De Simone (cello) conducted by Michael Zaugg at St Machar's Cathedral, Aberdeen on the 19 November 2021.

The Mystery of Light (movement III) was first performed by The University of Aberdeen Chamber Choir conducted by Sam Paul at Elphinstone Hall, Aberdeen on the 14 January 2020 in a special honorary graduation for HRH The Princess Royal. The first public performance was given by the same performers at King's College Chapel, the University of Aberdeen on the 12 March 2020.

The Three Gaelic Songs (movements II, IV & VI) were first performed by the Perth Gaelic Choir at Blairgowrie Town Hall on the 05 November 2017.

Duration: 22 minutes

PROGRAMME NOTE

Coronach is the culmination of four years of incremental work and carries on a current preoccupation with integrating elements of Scottish history and culture into my work. The piece is in seven movements and alternates between settings of Scottish romantic poetry with Gaelic folksongs collected by Hamish Henderson (1919-2002), a renaissance man of mid-twentieth century Scottish poetry and folklore. Although the alternating material is of a very different cast, the two hopefully shine a light on each other and eventually come together in a 'long, continuous chant'. The work is a celebration of Henderson and his life and works.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR CELLIST

Coronach imagines the cellist in four separate performance spaces, moving from an off-stage position to gradually get closer and closer until being on stage for the final movement. It is envisaged that the cellist would move performance space in the Gaelic movements (when it is not playing) and would do so as quietly and unobtrusively as possible. This level of movement during a performance is an ideal and may not be possible or desirable in every occasion. There are many ways to skin a cat, and ultimately it is down to the choir and conductor (and cellist!) to decide on what is best for their venue and performance. The first movement is designed so that the cellist may not be able to see the conductor and vice versa, all other movements should feature sightlines between the two. If a performance was to take place in a church (and I am imagining a church that would be typical in my homeland), the performance spaces may be as such:

Performance Space I	-	Narthex
Performance Space II	-	Nave (to the side of audience if possible)
Performance Space III	-	Transept
Performance Space IV	-	Stage

But again, whatever works best for the performance is ultimately what should prevail.

TEXT

I. Coruisk

I think this is the very stillest place
On all God's earth, and yet no rest is here.
The vapours mirrored in the black loch's face
Drift on like frantic shapes and disappear;
A never-ceasing murmur in mine ear
Tells me of waters [wild] that flow and flow.
There is no rest at all afar or near,
[Only] {But} a sense of things that moan and go.
[And lo!] the still small life these limbs contain
I feel flows on like those, restless and proud;
Before that breathing naught within my brain
[Pauses,] but all drifts on like mist and cloud;
Only the bald peaks and [the] stones remain,
Frozen before thee, desolate and bowed.

Robert Williams Buchanan (1841-1901)

II. Saoil a Mhòr am Pòs Thu

Saoil a Mhòr am pòs thu?
Saoil am pòs thu Fiullaigean?
Saoil a Mhòr am pòs thu?
Theireadh gu leòr nach b'urrainn dhut

'S beag a bha dùil aig do mhàthair
Gur h-ann do dh' Arnol a chuirt' thu
An deidh cho grinn 's a bha thu
Air do shnàthaid mhuslin

Saoil a Mhòr am pòs thu?

Thog e tigh-geal ann an Arnol
Anns an robh àird neo-chumanta
Staidhrichean cama le sgàthain
Chun an ruim àird' aig Fiullaigean

Saoil a Mhòr am pòs thu?

Ged a bha Fiullaigean spàgach
Dheanadh e ceàrd a h-uile fir
Chuireadh e craobh ann an gàradh
Chuireadh e càl is curranan

Saoil a Mhòr am pòs thu?

Thainig litir a nall as an Fhraing
Is t' eile nall à Ruisia
Paipearan feadh na Roinn-Eòrp'
Ag innseadh mu phòsadhl Fhiullaigein

*Morag, do you think you'll marry?
Do you think you'll marry Fiullaigean?
Morag, do you think you'll marry?
Plenty would say that you couldn't*

*Little did your mother think
That you would be sent to Arnol
After how skilful you were
With your muslin needle*

*He built a white house in Arnol
Of unusual height
A winding, mirrored staircase
Up to Fiullaigean's top room*

*Although Fiullaigean was heavy-footed
He could turn his hand to anything
He would plant a tree in the garden
He would plant cabbages and carrots*

*A letter came over from France
And another over from Russia
Newspapers all over Europe
Telling of Fiullaigean's wedding*

Saoil a Mhòr am pòs thu?

III. The Mystery of Light

It is the eye that discovers the mystery of light, not only the moon and the stars and the vast splendours of the Aurora, but the endless changes the earth undergoes under changing lights.

Nan Shepherd (1893 – 1981)

IV. Guma Slàn do na Gillean

'S na hi liù lèidh leò,
Hò rò mo luaidh ort
'S na hi liù lèidh leò,

Guma slàn do na gillean
Thug an linne mu thuath orr'

'S na hi liù lèidh leò...

Anns a' bhàta caol daraich
's ro mhath ghearradh i'm fuaradh

'S na hi liù lèidh leò...

Ge b'e rachadh gan tilleadh
Bhiodh an iomairt glè chruaidh orr'

'S na hi liù lèidh leò...

Bhitheadh leaus air am basan,
Agus lasan nan gruaidhean.

'S na hi liù lèidh leò...

*Here's a health to the lads
Who sailed northwards across the Firth;*

*In a slender oaken boat-
Adept at tacking into the wind.*

*Whatever it was that made them turn back,
It must have been a terrible struggle;*

*There must have been blisters on their hands,
And flames in their cheeks.*

V. Blows the Wind Today

Blows the wind to-day, and the sun and the rain are flying,
Blows the wind on the moors to-day and now,
[Where] about the graves of the martyrs the [whaups] {birds} are crying,
My heart remembers how!

Grey recumbent tombs of the dead in desert places,
Standing stones on the vacant wine-red moor,
Hills of sheep, and the howes of the silent vanished races,
And winds, austere and pure:

Be it granted me to behold you again in dying,
Hills of home! and to hear again the call;
[Hear] about the graves of the martyrs the [peewees] {birds are} crying,
And hear no more at all.

Robert Louis Stevenson (1850 – 94)

VI. Air Do Shlàinte Mhàiri 'n Dotair

Hùbhi hàbhi hùbhi hàbhi
Air do shlàinte Mhàiri 'n dotair,
Hùbhi hàbhi hùbhi hàbhi
Siud ort fhéin a Mhàiri.

Dannsadh air na staidhreachan
Aig banais riomhach Mhàiri 'n dotair,
Dannsadh air na staidhreachan
Aig banais riomhach Mhàiri.

Hùbhi hàbhi hùbhi hàbhi...

Bidh an t-òr a' gliogadaich
Aig banais riomhach Mhàiri 'n dotair,
Bidh an t-òr a' gliogadaich
Aig banais riomhach Mhàiri.

Hùbhi hàbhi hùbhi hàbhi...

Tha rud beag a dhìth orm
A dh'fheumas mi mun deannainn banais
Tha rud beag a dhìth orm
A dh'fheumainn fhìn is Máiiri.

Hùbhi hàbhi hùbhi hàbhi...

Hùbhi hàbhi hùbhi hàbhi
Here's your health, the doctor's Mary
Hùbhi hàbhi hùbhi hàbhi
Here's to you Mary.

Dancing on the stairs
At the doctor's Mary's splendid wedding.
Dancing on the stairs
At Mary's splendid wedding.

Gold will be clinking
At the doctor's Mary's splendid wedding.
Gold will be clinking
At Mary's splendid wedding.

I lack one little thing
That I need before I wed
I lack one little thing
That Mary and I would need.

V. Spring Song

The curlew calls me where the salt winds blow;
His troubled note dwells mournfully and dies;
Then the long echo cries
Deep in my heart. [Ah, surely I must go!]
For there the tides, moon-haunted, ebb and flow;
And there the seaboard murmurs resonant;
The waves their interwoven fugue repeat
And brooding surges beat
A slow, [melodious,] continual chant.

John Davidson (1857 – 1909)

*Slogan ne'er stirred the heart to dare and die
As coronach loud wailing in the glen.*
